A school meeting is called in the Little Lake School District, for February 21st.

The Kalamora, of Goodall, Nelson & Perkins' Line, sails from San Francisco, for Southern ports, on Monday.

There were two team departures yesterday—one for San Bernardino, to L. D., and the other for El Monte.

Los Angeles was appointed in 1873 $18,321 02; Santa Barbara, $7,271 17; and San Bernardino, $5,086.

Representative Venable sends us the 5th biennial report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, for which he has our thanks.

The fare to San Francisco is down to $3, stateroom and meals included. It is cheaper to travel than to stay at home.

The San Bernardino Guardian cautions those who are intending to prospect for mines, that February is the opening of the season.

The Senate on Wednesday passed the bill to refund our Sheriff, Wm. Rowland, the money expended by him in the pursuit of Vasquez.

The steamer Pacific sailed yesterday for San Francisco. The Ventura sails on Tuesday, instead of Monday, as heretofore announced.

The dramatic entertainment at Turnverein Hall this evening will be equal, if not superior, to anything that has yet been presented.

Piercy and the Phelps dramatic troupe are still at Eureka. Mr. Lipis is engaged in dramatizing Wilkie Collins' "New Magdalen."

The Coroner held an inquest Friday on the body of a young man named Atkinson, who, it is supposed, committed suicide in a fit of melancholy.

Atkinson was in poor health, and belonged in Boston, Mass.

Presbyterian services will be held today in the Court house, Rev. Thomas Fraser officiating. The Elders will be ordained and the rites of baptism and holy communion administered.

We tried in yesterday's issue to tell something about the Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles. A printer, whose head was probably running on war times, got it Presbyterian Church South, whatever that may mean.

There is a decidedly "soapy" fellow over in the Express office. Now, if by some means, the main city, zanja could be turned into that establishment for thirty days, it would be a sanitary benediction upon this community.

The Grand Library Concert is developing rapidly. Committees are being appointed, and a programme will be arranged that will be very attractive.

Our citizens may confidently expect something ahead of the ordinary efforts in this line.

A friend who has been making a short trip through Anaheim, Westminster and vicinity, tells us that everything looks promising in that section. The crops are in a forward condition, and the prospect for a bountiful yield was never better.

The newly elected pastor of the Congregational Church of this city, Rev. E. T. Packard, late of Boston, Mass., preaches this morning at 10 o'clock, and the usual hours. Mr. Packard is a clergyman of distinguished ability, and is well known in the East as an able and earnest preacher of the Gospel. He has come to our coast on account of his health, which, we are happy to learn, has been much improved by the change.

The Express, in trying to wiggle out of the responsibility of assisting an imposter to convince the people of Los Angeles, insists that the name of its latest sensational character never appeared in that paper till yesterday. Nevertheless, its entire editorial space on one occasion was devoted to introducing that individual, and people who were not acquainted with the character of the Express were taken in thereby. Still, we do not think that paper ought to grow at us for not following up its twaddling Jenkins, and undoing all the mischief he does. We have better business.

Messrs. Wattleit & Vogel, proprietors of the Philadelphia Brewery on Aliso street, announce that they are now manufacturing Lager Beer in sufficient quantity to supply all in our city, who may want to indulge in moderate use. A gentleman who is considered an excellent judge of such commodities, said in our hearing yesterday, that the beer manufactured at the Philadelphia Brewery is equal in this respect to any made on this coast. It is so, Los Angeles bids fair to become the "Milwaukee" of the Pacific Coast.

L. V. Willets, Esq., of Illinois, is looking around our city, with a possible view of locating. Mr. Willets is engaged to a very extent in the breeding of Flemish and Norman horses, and should he cast his lot among us, he will introduce those desirable breeds here.

The Skating Rink was crowded last night with the youth and beauty of the city. Some of the old folks were engaged to a very extent in the breeding of Flemish and Norman horses, and should he cast his lot among us, he will introduce those desirable breeds here.

There was a very fair attendance at Col. Howard's lecture last evening, the audience being of a very select character, who listened with the profound attention and interest to the end. The subject was "Something About the Rink." It was handled with that peculiar skill and terseness for which the lecturer is famous, and while it abounded in the most scathing invective against the follies and vicious passions of the time, it was replete with artistic and beautifully wrought gems of sentiment which struck a responsive chord in many hearts in his audience. The lecture was, indeed, a literary treat, and which all present highly appreciated, and which those who were not present could ill afford to lose.

One of the most important cases before the Lower California Colonization Company. The facts, as presented in the case before the Commission, show that the company claims damages for losses sustained at Magdalena Bay, where they were gathering orchards, and also, for a failure of the Government to fulfill its contract with Captain Isham for a survey of Sonora, Sinaloa, and Durango. This famous contract, which was made by Commodore, who was President of Mexico, proposed to give Isham and his associates one-half of the lands he might survey. When Juarez became President the contract was annulled, and the claims for lands were consolidated with claims of the Lower California Colonization Company. It is reported that the Commissioner of Mexico is opposed to the allowance of the $30,000,000 damages claimed by Mexican citizens on account of the depredations by Indians who live in Arizona and New Mexico. These claims are held by English parties, and if allowed, the settlers may be compelled to pay them promptly.—(Record.)

Havana letters say that a number of families of Cubans in the field have been brought from Gohara, Balqui, Puerto Principi and other cities of the central eastern departments, and imprisoned by the authorities. It is a piteous spectacle to see the slow procession of feeble old men and hollow-eyed women, some with babies in their arms, and troops of little children carrying some of their numerous bundles, making their way over the rough streets to the jail. The prisoners numbering 200, were afterwards sent to the Isle of Pines. The greater part were sent from Puerto Principi, by General Portillo, who designated them as vecinos peligrosos dangerous neighbors.

An Immense Business.

Some idea of the immense amount of business transacted over the Union and Central Pacific Railroads, (says the Alta) may be conceived by the amount of baggage reported to have been forwarded West from Omaha during the past week. Ninety-three thousand seven hundred is the statement. Allowing a fair number of pieces to each passenger will still allow a handsome multitude of passengers. As to the amount of goods, of general freight, we have not the statement before us, and were it given, there are those who could scarcely believe it. A fair portion of this passenger travel was for this State. We have gained largely in population in this way, but unless we greatly err, our gains in the future, within the next five years, will greatly exceed anything heretofore since the days of the gold fever. People will come during, or previous to the winter, to avoid the snow, the cold, and the severities of other climes; and previous or during the summer and autumn, they will come from the South to escape the heat, the yellow fever, cholera, and general annoyances that then do most abound.
